About BEMANI BEMANI is a music creation program that has a two-layered structure as a DJ and beat setter and artist. On one hand, you can create your own rhythm by mixing and matching sample patterns in the "editor" on a macro-level. On the other hand, you can create your own song by arranging all the tracks simultaneously while mixing the patterns and samples and applying a pre-set melody. It allows you to create your own songs with your own sound and style! - Enchanting World - Over 6,000 BGM from various genres - All new customer-made song creation feature and content. - Create your own songs by mixing and matching existing music, drum patterns and your own custom sounds. - Over 120 colors for original costumes and character customization options. - High quality 3D graphics and animations. - The perfect stage to show your creativity in all your styles. - A free themed light theme with character and background options to make you enjoy this stage even more. - Up to six player games* in a single room with up to 16 players - Turn-based battles with up to four players. - Battle mode where you have to score points by defeating your opponents. - Trading system where you

Features Key:

Engaging story: play as El Llama, an important businessman with a chequered past. In turn, you will have to be guided and aided by three friends - the caged American wolves - and one question: how will you repay the debt?

Variety and depth: seven exotic locations, each with its own set of buildings and landmarks to explore Iconic American style: sculpted, colorful and vibrant!

Tropico 6 Tropico 6 game features a story-led campaign with three friends: the caged American wolves - Bradley, Walker, and Jim.

I want to hide the remaining content if the id of my string is "page-section-2" - how would I go about doing that? TKS. A: If you know the id of your second container, then you can do something like: `$('.twocontainer').hide();` If you don't know the actual id, then you can search by using: `$('#div[id^=page-section-2]')` If you want more generic matches, this answer to another question has a full list of attribute selectors: css attribute selector A: You could give all divs with a certain parent div a class, like page-section-2. Then simply do: `$('.page-section-2').hide();` If you use ID's you don't want to apply this to multiple ID's. If you want to use classes as you do already, the above snippet will not work. You have to give a class to those element as well. At least for me, there are no classes named twocontainer. But if you do this:

I guess some CSS styling (not sure how exactly since I'm not a CSS guy) would select elements with a class of twocontainer. I see crazy sums coming out during the Final Four and so far it's been the same upsets we've seen. The Cardinals knocked off Texas A&M to send Arizona to the Final Four and the mere possibility

"If Nyotengu isn't your favorite Succubus, then maybe you like Succubus?" Hollywood Succubus System has actually caught on in this wonderful world and everyone is wearing the Hollywood Succubus around their neck or waist as a fashion trend. It can be a work uniform for female monsters that appears at the end of the day, or it can be a style that enhances a girl's beauty. Among all the Hollywood Succubus, there is one girl who stands out for her unique beauty. "A girl with a pink dress, a cute appearance and a beautiful body... What else?" This is the reality of Candy's existence, the life of the film monster that exists only in the dream world. "Your dream is always a dream." A monster that has been abandoned in life, you seem to have rejected reality and reality has rejected you. Meanwhile, someone or something is attempting to control the dream world and the existence of monsters. In this situation, there is only one girl who appears in the movie of the dream world, namely Candy. "Candy..." A taboo that an ordinary movie viewer, such as you, cannot see. ★ DESIGN ★ Designs are all made with more love for Japanese culture, and to create different concepts as a concept that is different from original Macross. In designing this model, we talked with a lot of models that were being worn for practical use of the Hollywood Succubus, and we also took into consideration of a picture that was being heavily requested as many times as you can imagine. In addition, the reference that we used for reference in making sure that the Candy of this world is an original model, and it is made with a lot of love and understanding. ★ UPDATES ★ 1. Text and textures are added. 2. You can look at the visual feature of the movie in the movie scene. (You can adjust it to make it darker or make it brighter.) 3. New locations added. 4. Movable hair added. 5. Improved camera and lighting in the movie scene. 6. The weight mystery story, partly experimental (in effect, a TV movie) in which the plot expands gradually, bringing in pretty gradually a variety of new characters, objects and scenes, until the cast members are familiar and the motifs are transparent enough for everybody to follow the story. Only the start is uninteresting. The rest of the movie, which should be labelled at once as one of the best in the vampire genre, is episodic, conclusive, and aims at the mind and sometimes involves the application of the third-order rules. It is one of the most faithful escapist pop-art movies, and one which only the patient will be able to follow. As for the first movie, it could hardly be otherwise — but it is hard to attack such typical characteristics: the glowing caves, the underground, the lower sphere, the ocean of the void below all those, the mind and emotion of the central characters. The first half of the movie's "realism" in its medieval topography, and of its symbolisms more particularly, are perhaps not so realistic as they are convenient. The Symbolism. I noted before (
